ARKANSAS' TWISTER KILLS 12 AND INJURES 35

DEVASTATES FIVE SMALL COMMUNITIES

KLONDYKE, MOUNTAIN VIEW, COLLEGEVILLE, WILLIS AND ALEXANDER

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF 32 SCHOOL CHILDREN, HOUSE WRECKED OVER HEADS

Little Rock, Ark., March 18.—(UP)—At least nine persons were killed and fully twenty others injured when a tornado devastated the five small communities of Klondyke, Mountain View, Collegeville, Willis and Alexander southwest of here last night.

One other girl was still missing early today although searching parties had combed the stricken area for her throughout the night.

The dead: Mrs. Edgar Smith, and Inez, 6, and Clinton, 2, her two children, Lennie Cash, 22, Mathew, 17, and Artis Cash, 15, brothers and sisters of Mrs. Smith, all of Klondyke.

Miss — Moody, Mountain View, Floyd McAllister, Mountain View. The storm first struck with terrific force at 9 P. M. from the southwest at Klondyke and took the heaviest toll of life at the Smith home.

Rescuers found all the Smith family dead and injured in the wreckage of the residence.

Sweeping across the Hot Springs to Little Rock highway, the storm demolished the Half-Way Inn, killing McAllister and seriously injuring his brother.

Edgar Smith and Henry McAllister, four-year-old brother of the dead man, were found in Klondyke with fractured skulls. They are not expected to live.

Thirty-two children were attending a school play when the tornado wrecked the school house at Alexander. Only one of the entire number was reported injured.

Relief parties left here early last night for the storm swept area.

More than a score of homes are reported to have been demolished throughout the area but an estimate of the damage could not be obtained early today.

Collegeville, Mountain View, Alexander and Willis are widely separated points about ten miles southwest of here while Klondyke is about six miles west of Benton, Ark.

Little Rock, Ark., March 18.—The death toll of a terrific cyclone that wrought destruction near Benton, Arkansas, late last night, rose to 12 today as rescue workers went from house to house through the devastated area, seeking out the dead and injured.

At least 35 more have been seriously or slightly injured and have been taken to the hospitals in Benton and surrounding towns.

Telephone and telegraph lines in the storm-ravaged area were blown down and the only information available here today came from the rescuers who are making a canvass of the district and administering to the victims.

The dead were taken to the undertaking parlors in Benton early today. Dozens lost their homes and belongings as the death dealing wind cone swept houses along with it and uprooted trees.

The twister struck first near De-light, Pike county, where four houses were blown down and a man and woman probably fatally injured by falling timbers. Many others barely escaped death by taking refuge in storm cellars.

The storm came without warning. It struck next near Benton, in Salina county, killing 12 persons in a farming community northwest of the town and injuring a score of others. A number of houses were blown down in that district.

It struck Collegeville, Klondyke, Willis, Alexander and Mountain View, inflicting injuries to farmers and their families and heavy property damage.

The most pitied character in Benton, which was gripped in grief today, is Mrs. Ella Cash, who lost six members of her family. Mrs. Cash hurried to the home of Mrs. Edgar Smith, her daughter, after the storm had spent its fury to find her four children and two grand-children dead beneath the brick and timbers where the house once stood. Edgar Smith, her son-in-law, was so badly injured he is not expected to live.

Workers could not offer an estimate of the property damage in homes and farm buildings. Doctors were kept busy treating the injured for broken bones and more serious injuries.

HENRY FORD RAIL MERGER IS DISAPPROVED

Washington, March 18.—(UP)—The Henry Ford railroad merger, involving consolidation of the Detroit and Ironton railroad with the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, and the Toledo-Detroit railroad, was disapproved by the Interstate Commerce commission.

The commission dismissed a series of applications proposing merger of the railroads controlled by Ford and his family, holding that the proposals involved consolidation of the properties. Under the law, actual consolidations cannot be made because the commission has not prepared a general plan grouping all the railroads of the country into a limited number of systems. This plan must be prepared before actual consolidations can be passed on by the commission.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PROBES LIQUOR SELLING

MILLIONAIRE RANCHMAN SAYS STEWARDS SOLD LIQUOR ON LEVIATHAN

RANCHMAN WAS FINED FOR HAVING LIQUOR IN HIS SUITE ABOARD SHIP

Washington, March 18.—(UP)—The Anti-Saloon League today was privately investigating information of a millionaire Arizona ranchman that stewards sold liquor aboard the U. S. Shipping Board vessel Leviathan.

Frederick Almy, the ranchman, landing at New York, was fined for having liquor in his suite aboard the ship, and afterwards said there was drinking on board, intimating stewards supplied the liquor.

While the league was silent in the absence of its own facts on the situation, the Shipping Board reiterated its recent statement that it discouraged law violations on its boats, pointing out, however, infractions might be expected occasionally in any community as large as the Leviathan's.

The board discharged a few employees, who had had liquor, following an investigation recently when the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment made charges similar to Almy's intimations.

The Association today observed only that the shipping board at that time had declared itself "100 per cent pure."

PRES. COOLIDGE'S SPRAIN EXAMINED

Washington, March 18.—(UP)—An X-ray of President Coolidge's sprained wrist has revealed the presence of a fluid causing distortion of a tendon. Maj. James F. Coughlin, personal physician to the president, declared today.

Coughlin said it would be necessary to keep the wrist tightly bound with bandages for several days. The sprain, however, is not serious, he said.

EXECUTIVE CONTROL OF YALE IN CHINA

New Haven, Conn., March 18.—(UP)—Believing the executive control of Yale in China should pass into Chinese hands as early as possible, Edward H. Hume, president of that institution, announced his resignation here today.

Yale in China is at Changsha, Hunan province, and was recently closed when students went on a strike, said to have been fomented by Cantonese agitators.

The trustees of Yale, oriental branch of Yale, issued a statement explaining that other Christian colleges in China had decided to turn over control to native educators.

Senate Finance Committee Add Nearly a Million Dollars to the Education Budget

SYMPATHY FOR SIX PRISONERS SEEMS WASTED

AWAIT EXECUTION AT JOLIET FOR MURDER OF DEPUTY WARDEN

NONE OF FIVE REMAINING ARE GRANTED ANY LIB- ERTIES

Joliet, Ill., March 18.—(UP)—Sympathy that once existed for six men awaiting execution in the county jail for the murder of Deputy Warden Klein of the state penitentiary, had disappeared today.

Every attempt was being made to bring about a speedy execution of the five members of that group who remain here. Bernardo Roa, one of the men, escaped with two companions Saturday and has not been recaptured. His two companions, Robert Torrez and Gregorio Rizzo, both have been caught.

Indicative of the disappearance of sympathy is the attitude of Sheriff Albert Markgraf. A few weeks ago he was jovial. He gave the Mexicans guitars to while away the hours — guitars which incidentally drowned out noise of the Mexicans at work sawing the bars of their cells. He saw that the three Mexicans and their companions — Charles Duschowski, Charles Shader and Walter Stalesky — had a few choice foods, because they had not long to live.

But since last Saturday's attempt, on the part of the six men, to flee, Markgraf has become a strict disciplinarian. None of the five is granted any liberties. Two pretty señoritas — Juanita Gallardo and Atilana Eleasde — who confessed sneaking saws in to the Mexicans, are ordered to remain quiet their penchant for singing Spanish songs.

State's Attorney Hjalmar Rehn has announced that every attempt will be made to speed the execution of the five men. He has decided against an attempt to overrule a writ of superseas which has continued the execution, but will fight any attempts for a retrial for the five men.

Search for Roa continues through northern Illinois, Michigan and Indiana.

Roa and his five companions were convicted of killing Klein, in an escape from the state penitentiary here. They were convicted and sentenced to hang but three continuances have been granted.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR THE TRIO THAT ROBBED ANOKA BANK

St. Paul, March 18.—(UP)—Life imprisonment for the trio that robbed the Anoka National bank of $11,500 Dec. 8, 1925, was upheld today by the state supreme court.

Tom Colcord, John Anderson and Clarence Sainey, arrested in Shreveport, La., charged with the robbery, were returned to Minnesota, tried before Judge Arthur E. Giddings and sentenced to life imprisonment. The trio made a motion for a new trial which was denied.

When arrested the three men had in their possession three guns, ammunition, nitroglycerin, dynamite caps, fuse and other articles. The supreme court ruled that in a criminal case where the evidence of guilt is both direct and circumstantial, it is not an error, in the absence of a request for such an instruction, not to charge specifically concerning the weight of the circumstantial evidence.

ILLINOIS COAL OPERATORS REASSERT PREVIOUS STAND

Chicago, March 18.—(UP)—The Illinois Coal Operators association today unanimously ratified the stand its representatives took at the recent Miami, Fla., miners' wage conference.

At that meeting the Illinois delegation was emphatic in its statement that it is impossible to continue to operate under the present Jacksonville wage agreement. Approximately 200 operators attended today's conference.

FOUR KILLED WHEN TRAIN DRAGS CAR, RIPS IT TO PIECES

Wellsville, Kan., March 18.—(UP)—Four persons, including a mother and her child, were killed here late last night when the "Chief", crack Santa Fe passenger train, dragged a small coupe more than 200 feet down the right-of-way and ripped it to pieces.

A four-year-old boy was so seriously injured by the terrific impact that he, too, may die.

The dead are: Mrs. Bessie Jewett, Ottawa, Kan., and her two-year-old son; Mrs. Pauline Petrel, 30, Wellsville; William Hayes, 25, Jess Gregory, four years old, son of Mrs. Petrel, was injured.

Only two persons witnessed the tragedy and the engineer of the speeding passenger train knew nothing of the accident until he pulled his train into the union terminal in Kansas City and was informed of it.

Jerry Petrel, husband of one of the dead women, was at work at his telegraph instrument in the Santa Fe station less than a block away when the train struck his automobile.

CHRISTIANSON SENDS 1ST VETO TO THE SENATE

BILL VALIDATED EXCESS SAL- ARIES PAID CERTAIN COUN- TY AUDITORS

COUNTIES INVOLVED BELIEVED RENNVILLE, TRAVERSE AND KITTSOON

St. Paul, March 18.—(UP)—Governor Theodore Christianson today sent his first veto message of the present session to the state senate.

The bill to which the governor refused to affix his signature was one validating excess salaries paid to county auditors of certain counties. While neither the bill nor the veto mentioned the counties involved, it became known that they were Renville, Traverse and Kittson counties.

Governor Christianson explained in his message that he deemed it inadvisable to legalize acts done in violation of existing statutes as interpreted by the attorney general. The statute to which the executive referred was an act enacted in 1923 changing the salary classifications of certain counties under which the salaries of auditors of a number of counties was lowered.

GOV. WHITFIELD OF MISSISSIPPI PASSES AWAY

SUCCUMBED AFTER A LONG BAT- TLE WITH BLOOD POISONING

LEFT LEG AMPUTATED IN EF- FORT TO CHECK SPREAD OF POISON

Jackson, Miss., March 18.—(UP)—Governor Henry L. Whitfield of Mississippi died at 4:15 A. M. today after a long battle with blood poisoning.

The governor lapsed into unconsciousness at noon Thursday, shortly after directing his funeral arrangements, in which he asked that his rites be simple and that friends send no flowers. He also requested that his military staff act as pall bearers and that the state flag be draped about his casket.

At 9:30 P. M. Thursday, he opened his eyes for the last time, faintly smiled at his wife and then went back to the sleep from which he never returned.

He had been sinking rapidly since his return here from Memphis on crutches several days ago. His left leg was amputated at a Memphis hospital in an effort to check the spread of the poison.

RINES QUERIED, IS AGAINST ANY NEW BUILDINGS

SAYS ALL INSTITUTIONS SEEM TO HAVE GOTTEN ALONG WELL LAST 2 YEARS

ST. CLOUD NORMAL ENTERS INTO DISCUSSION OF THE COM- MITTEE

St. Paul, March 18.—(UP)—Apparently satisfied that the "Big Three" had cut school appropriations without making a thorough study of conditions, the senate finance committee late Thursday voted to add nearly $1,000,000 to the education budget.

Henry Rines, chairman of the department of administration and finance, called by the senate committee, admitted under a cross-fire of questions, that he had no personal knowledge of some normal schools, which were said to be in a bad way by committee members.

Rines said the "Big Three" considered this an inopportune time to begin building projects and that all the institutions seemed to have gotten along well during the past two years.

Sen. F. E. Putnam, Blue Earth, asked Rines if he did not think it better to carry on building work as needed during each biennium rather than have it pile up at the end of a long period of inactivity. Rines answered he thought the schools would "get along all right."

Sen. J. D. Sullivan, St. Cloud, then asked Rines if the "Big Three" had inspected the normal school at St. Cloud, before they cut its budget appropriations.

The comptroller admitted that the members had not visited the school but had made the cut after talking to the superintendent of the school. "Did the superintendent ever advise you that the requested appropriations were not necessary?" Sullivan asked.

Rines answered in the negative but added that the "Big Three" believed that normal schools had about reached their peak and should not be increased in size.

Sullivan was quick to take exception to this remark, as were other members of the committee, who pointed out that the schools had the largest attendance at present of their entire history.

Sen. J. D. McCubery, Moorhead, when he drew from Rines an admission that he had not visited the normal school at Moorhead, then painted a picture of the "deplorable conditions there, where students attend an institution more like a prison than a school and where snow drifts into the main vestibule."

Upon the completion of the questioning the committee voted to recommend $76,000 each to the Morris and Crookston schools of agriculture; maintenance funds for the University of Minnesota, totalling $100,000 more for the next two years than for the present biennium, and to adhere to his recommendations of normal school aid of $200,000 each to the schools at St. Cloud and Moorhead.

RADIO OPERATORS LICENSES EXTENDED IN SHIP SERVICE

Washington, March 18.—(UP)—All licenses issued to radio operators outside the broadcasting class were extended today by the commerce department. The order applies principally to persons holding operators licenses for ship communication and to amateurs. These expired when the new radio law became effective.

CLOSED BANK IS REOPENED

St. Paul, March 18.—(UP)—The Farmers and Merchants State bank of Hampton, closed May 23, 1926, was reopened today, according to A. J. Veigel, state banking examiner. The capital of the institution is placed at $15,000. L. L. Reinhardt is the president and Otto Ackerman the cashier.

SUPERIOR'S TEACHER OUSTER FIGHT IS MARKING TIME

Superior, Wis., March 18.—(UP)—Superior's teacher ouster fight is now experiencing a lull with both sides marking time.

Student and citizen supporters of Miss Lulu J. Dickenson, deposed faculty member, with 23 years of service to her credit, are proceeding quietly with their plans for a showdown.

Board of education members declined to make any comment upon reaction of the community toward their stand in dismissing Miss Dickenson.

No disorders have occurred at the high school and no fear of a student or teacher strike exists for the present.

CAPTURE OF NANKING IS SAID IMMINENT

CANTONESE FORCES ADVANCE AFTER FALL OF WUKIANG AND ISHING

NORTHERN FORCES, DEFENDERS, PREPARE TO MAKE DESPER- ATE STAND

By FRANCIS MISSELWITZ
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Shanghai, March 18.—Capture of Nanking by the Cantonese was reported imminent today after the fall of Wukiang and Ishing to the nationalists.

Northern forces defending Nanking prepared to make a desperate stand in that city, capture of which would make the already perilous position of Shanghai still more critical.

A general strike was believed to be near in Shanghai as labor troubles increased to serious proportions.

Terrorists were intimidating laborers in the city. Strikers were gaining headway, with 15,000 reported out of work. Labor murders have occurred almost daily.

Police accused provisional court judges of being intimidated into releasing gunmen.

Capture of Nanking would give the nationalist armies a new advantage in their drive to cross the Yangtze river. Nanking is on the river northwest of Shanghai, and once they had it in their possession, the Cantonese would be in a position to push across Kiangsu province to the Yellow sea, cutting off Chang Chung-Chang's army at Shanghai from its northern allies.

Nanking is a terminal of the only railroad connecting Shanghai with northern China, and its fall would virtually isolate Chang Chung-Chang from his chief, Chang Tao-Lin.

CLAIM HARRY SUTTON STOLE 84 AUTOMOBILES

Chicago, March 18.—(UP)—Harry Sutton, who police say stole at least 84 automobiles in Wisconsin, was sought today following his release on bonds alleged to have been forged.

H. F. Heberlein, attache of the municipal court clerk's office, is said to have admitted receiving a "roll of bills" after he approved the bond. The money was handed him by a woman believed to be Sutton's wife, police say Heberlein told them. He is under arrest.

The signatures forged were those of Judge Max Luster of municipal court and property holders who were supposed to have scheduled $97,000 worth of real estate for Sutton's release.

Sutton was traced to Mattoon, Ill., by Wisconsin authorities and arrested.

CONVICTED OF BURNING OWN GROCERY STORE

St. Paul, March 18.—(UP)—The first sentence ever pronounced in Minnesota for a first degree arson charge was given today to Irbam Mershley, convicted of burning his own grocery store.

Judge Charles Bechhoefer sentenced Mershley to 15 years in the state penitentiary.

The grocer was said to have been convicted of the arson charge by evidence secured by fire inspectors who found a candle surrounded by oil soaked rags in a closet of the store after the fire had been extinguished.

WILL NOT BE A WIDE OPEN INVESTIGATION

WILL NOT DELVE INTO STATE ELECTIONS OF RECENT YEARS

COMMITTEE RECOGNIZES ITS STATED AUTHORITY LIMITED TO SCHAAL ELECTION

By HECTOR PERRIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Paul, March 18.—It was apparent today that the Minnesota senate committee, investigating the election of U. S. Senator Thomas D. Schall in 1924, does not intend to be carried far afield.

There have been intimations that the committee might throw its inquiry wide open and delve into the Minnesota state elections of recent years. Senator Schall, in attacking the jurisdiction of the senate committee, broadly hinted that the investigators could do better to turn their attention to purely state matters. Schall himself threatened to help such a probe.

Speculations along this line were jolted by the committee Wednesday night when in continuing the examination of A. N. Jacobs, Minneapolis publisher, it recognized that its stated authority did not extend beyond the Schall election.

The result was that Jacobs' testimony was confined to matters of which Senator Schall was alleged to have direct knowledge.

Two matters ruled out by the committee related to the names of bootleggers from whom Schall was alleged to have received contributions through Frank Corneaby and to the "New Prague brewery deal," about which "Andy" Rahn was declared to have knowledge. Rahn previously had been identified as the "angel" of Schall's campaign.

Corneaby's activities were related by Jacobs.

"I told Senator Schall that Corneaby was bringing in bootleggers to contribute to his campaign fund and that I was going to District Attorney LaFayette French, Jr., and to Prohibition Director C. B. Qvale and interceding in behalf of these men," Jacobs testified.

The publisher added that Schall said that was "fine" and that he was glad Qvale and French "were playing ball with us."

Qvale and French did not know why he interceded, Jacobs said.

Senator James A. Carley, Plainview, who did the questioning, asked if Senator Schall knew money was being contributed by bootleggers.

"Oh, yes," replied Jacobs. "He said bootleggers' money was just as good as anybody else's, as good as that of bankers or lumber companies, but to be mighty careful."

Rahn, former republican state committeeman, was declared by Jacobs to have received contributions from "two or three" large railroad companies, including the Great Northern railroad, the only one that the witness specified, but the publisher added that "Senator Schall didn't know anything about that."

Jacobs said he told Schall about it. Reference was again made to Mr. Peoria, who Jacobs previously testified had promised to aid Schall in return for the latter assisting him in a liquor violation case, but the only additional information was that Peoria had paid a fine on one charge and another had been dismissed.

Senator Schall listened attentively to the testimony and at several points his face flushed and he appeared to be angered, but he said nothing.

Magnus Johnson, whom Schall defeated in the 1924 campaign, sat in the front row of spectators in the chamber.

Jacobs was still on the stand when a recess was taken to tonight.

DR. GEO. A. MUNCH SENTENCED ON A FRAUD CHARGE

Tampa, Fla., March 18.—(UP)—Dr. George A. Munch, former secretary of the Florida board of electric examiners, was sentenced to five years imprisonment and fined $1,000 by Judge Fred Jones in federal court here today.

Munch was found guilty yesterday of using the mails to defraud in connection with an alleged diploma mill.

The bill to which the governor refused to affix his signature was one validating excess salaries paid to county auditors of certain counties. While neither the bill nor the veto mentioned the counties involved, it became known that they were Renville, Traverse and Kittson counties.

Governor Christianson explained in his message that he deemed it inadvisable to legalize acts done in violation of existing statutes as interpreted by the attorney general. The statute to which the executive referred was an act enacted in 1923 changing the salary classifications of certain counties under which the salaries of auditors of a number of counties was lowered.

Sen. J. D. McCubery, Moorhead, when he drew from Rines an admission that he had not visited the normal school at Moorhead, then painted a picture of the "deplorable conditions there, where students attend an institution more like a prison than a school and where snow drifts into the main vestibule."

Upon the completion of the questioning the committee voted to recommend $76,000 each to the Morris and Crookston schools of agriculture; maintenance funds for the University of Minnesota, totalling $100,000 more for the next two years than for the present biennium, and to adhere to its recommendations of normal school aid of $200,000 each to the schools at St. Cloud and Moorhead.

Rines answered in the negative but added that the "Big Three" believed that normal schools had about reached their peak and should not be increased in size.

Sullivan was quick to take exception to this remark, as were other members of the committee, who pointed out that the schools had the largest attendance at present of their entire history.

ST. CLOUD NORMAL ENTERS INTO DISCUSSION OF THE COM-MITTEE

St. Paul, March 18.—(UP)—Apparently satisfied that the "Big Three" had cut school appropriations without making a thorough study of conditions, the senate finance committee late Thursday voted to add nearly $1,000,000 to the education budget.

Henry Rines, chairman of the department of administration and finance, called by the senate committee, admitted under a cross-fire of questions, that he had no personal knowledge of some normal schools, which were said to be in a bad way by committee members.

Rines said the "Big Three" considered this an inopportune time to begin building projects and that all the institutions seemed to have gotten along well during the past two years.

Sen. F. E. Putnam, Blue Earth, asked Rines if he did not think it better to carry on building work as needed during each biennium rather than have it pile up at the end of a long period of inactivity. Rines answered he thought the schools would "get along all right."

Sen. J. D. Sullivan, St. Cloud, then asked Rines if the "Big Three" had inspected the normal school at St. Cloud, before they cut its budget appropriations.

The comptroller admitted that the members had not visited the school but had made the cut after talking to the superintendent of the school.

"Did the superintendent ever advise you that the requested appropriations were not necessary?" Sullivan asked.

Rines answered in the negative but added that the "Big Three" believed that normal schools had about reached their peak and should not be increased in size.

Sullivan was quick to take exception to this remark, as were other members of the committee, who pointed out that the schools had the largest attendance at present of their entire history.

SUPERIOR'S TEACHER OUSTER FIGHT IS MARKING TIME

Superior, Wis., March 18.—(UP)—Superior's teacher ouster fight is now experiencing a lull with both sides marking time.

Student and citizen supporters of Miss Lulu J. Dickenson, deposed faculty member, with 23 years of service to her credit, are proceeding quietly with their plans for a showdown.

Board of education members declined to make any comment upon reaction of the community toward their stand in dismissing Miss Dickenson.

No disorders have occurred at the high school and no fear of a student or teacher strike exists for the present.

CAPTURE OF NANKING IS SAID IMMINENT

CANTONESE FORCES ADVANCE

AND ISHING

NORTHERN FORCES, DEFENDERS, PREPARE TO MAKE DESPERATE
STAND

By FRANCIS MISSELEWITZ
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Shanghai, March 18.—Capture of Nanking by the Cantonese was reported imminent today after the fall of Wukiang and Ishing to the nationalists.

Northern forces defending Nanking prepared to make a desperate stand in that city, capture of which would make the already perilous position of Shanghai still more critical.

A general strike was believed to be near in Shanghai as labor troubles increased to serious proportions.

Terrorists were intimidating laborers in the city. Strikers were gaining headway, with 15,000 reported out of work. Labor murders have occurred almost daily.

Police accused provisional court judges of being intimidated into releasing gunmen.

Capture of Nanking would give the nationalist armies a new advantage in their drive to cross the Yangtze river. Nanking is on the river northwest of Shanghai, and once they had it in their possession, the Cantonese would be in a position to push across Kiangsu province to the Yellow sea, cutting off Chang Chung-Chang's army at Shanghai from his northern allies.

Nanking is a terminal of the only railroad connecting Shanghai with northern China, and its fall would virtually isolate Chang Chung-Chang from his chief, Chang Tso-Lin.

WILL NOT BE A WIDE OPEN INVESTIGATION

WILL NOT DELVE INTO STATE ELECTIONS OF RECENT

COMMITTEE RECOGNIZES ITS STATED AUTHORITY LIMITED TO SCHALL ELECTION

By HECTOR PERRIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Paul, March 18.—It was apparent today that the Minnesota senate committee, investigating the election of U. S. Senator Thomas D. Schall in 1924, does not intend to be carried far afield.

There have been intimations that the committee might throw its inquiry wide open and delve into the Minnesota state elections of recent years. Senator Schall, in attacking the jurisdiction of the senate committee, broadly hinted that the investigators could do better to turn their attention to purely state matters. Schall himself threatened to help such a probe.

Speculations along this line were jolted by the committee Wednesday night when in continuing the examination of A. N. Jacobs, Minneapolis publisher, it recognized that its stated authority did not extend beyond the Schall election.

The result was that Jacobs' testimony was confined to matters of which Senator Schall was alleged to have direct knowledge.

Two matters ruled out by the committee related to the names of bootleggers from whom Schall was alleged to have received contributions through Frank Corneby and to the "New Prague brewery deal," about which "Andy" Rahn was declared to have knowledge. Rahn previously had been identified as the "angel" of Schall's campaign.

Corneby's activities were related by Jacobs.

"I told Senator Schall that Corneby was bringing in bootleggers to contribute to his campaign fund and that I was going to District Attorney LaFayette French, Jr., and to Prohibition Director C. B. Qvale and interceding in behalf of these men," Jacobs testified.

The publisher added that Schall said that was "fine" and that he was glad Qvale and French "were playing ball with us."

Qvale and French did not know why he interceded, Jacobs said.

Senator James A. Carley, Plainview, who did the questioning, asked if Senator Schall knew money was being contributed by bootleggers.

"Oh, yes," replied Jacobs. "He said bootleggers' money was just as good as anybody else's, as good as that of bankers or lumber companies, but to be mighty careful."

Rahn, former republican state committeeman, was declared by Jacobs to have received contributions from "two or three" large railroad companies, including the Great Northern railroad, the only one that the witness specified, but the publisher added that "Senator Schall didn't know anything about that."

Jacobs said he told Schall about it. Reference was again made to Mr. Peoria, who Jacobs previously testified had promised to aid Schall in return for the latter assisting him in a liquor violation case, but the only additional information was that Peoria had paid a fine on one charge and another had been dismissed.

Senator Schall listened attentively to the testimony and at several points his face flushed and he appeared to be angered, but he said nothing.

Magnus Johnson, whom Schall defeated in the 1924 campaign, sat in the front row of spectators

TIME RIPE FOR MEADOW BURNING

District Forest Ranger E. H. Rhodes
Suggests That Work be Done Now

TO PREVENT SPREAD

Early Burning of Meadows Will Not Injure Grass
Roots

Any meadows, which on account of the heavy rains last fall, were not cut and on which owners expect to cut hay this coming season, should be burned off, just as soon as snow is off the meadows and while there is still snow in the woods, District Forest Ranger E. H. Rhodes suggested this morning.

Early burning of the meadows will not injure the grass roots but where burning is left until late spring, the fire will not only decrease the amount and quality of the hay crop but may spread and do untold damage to the young timber growth on adjoining lands, he said.

"State law requires that burning permits be obtained anytime the ground is not snow covered, and these may be obtained of the township fire warden or district ranger. Where meadows are burned off, before the snow is out of the woods and fire is not allowed to spread to adjoining open timber or meadow lands, the Forestry Department is not particular about the obtaining of the permit, but want to get burning done early in the spring while conditions are safe. Beginning after March 31, however, the Burning Permit Law will be enforced as strictly as possible by the township fire wardens and rangers," said District Ranger Rhodes.

"Old slash that is a fire hazard to timber lands, buildings, etc., should also be piled and burned before fire will run. Very often disastrous fires may be avoided by a little care at the proper time, in cleaning up debris which has accumulated during the year.

"Your assistance and cooperation in preventing disastrous fires will be appreciated by the State Forestry Department."

Rubber Tree's Yield

A rubber tree yields on an average only about three pounds of rubber a year.

"THE WOOD BOX"

Playlet Written by Jennie Wall
Hanft to be Presented at Whittier P. T. A. Jamboree

The program at the Jamboree to be given under the auspices of the Whittier Parent Teacher's association, Saturday, March 19, at the Whittier school will consist of selections of the Viking's orchestra and a playlet "The Wood Box" by Jennie Wall Hanft, which was presented a short while ago in the high school auditorium by the Semper Paratus club.

The play centers around the attempts of a fond mother to curb the desire of a career by her daughter. The scenes are laid in the vicinity of Gull Lake. The cast includes:

Mr. Dancer—Henry Viken.
Mrs. Dancer—Sylvia Ericson.
Linnette—Lois Cook.
Dr. Langley—Wm. McClenahan.
Mrs. Parsons—Mildred Hagberg.
The Stranger—Joe Greener.

At the first local presentation of the play Mrs. Hanft was present and commented favorably on the performance. Mrs. Hanft is the daughter-in-law of Frank Hanft, Sr., who at one time was principal of the Brainerd high school.

The play is coached by the Misses Marion Linnemann and Margaret Armstrong under the supervision of Miss Elia Oerting of the high school.

faculty. Miss Oerting by her organizing of the Semper Paratus club, perhaps has done more than any one else for the development of amateur dramatic talent in high school circles and results are very evident in the acting of the play.

Between the first and second acts of the play Mrs. W. A. Erickson will give several readings.

Besides the main program of the evening there will be several smaller interesting attractions. Doors will be open at 7 o'clock and two performances will be given, one at 7:30 and the other at 8:30 o'clock to enable everyone to take in the entire festivities.

Proceeds from the entertainment will go towards swelling the treasury of the Whittier Parent Teacher's association.

Children Cry for Jell, Jell, Jell

Light, easily digested dainties of real food value are what the children should have. Fruit flavored gelatin desserts are highly recommended for them by specialists. Local grocers now handle the latest improved prepared gelatin, called Sun-Lite. It comes in 5 pure fruit flavors—orange, lemon, cherry, raspberry, strawberry—and mint. Simply add a pint of boiling water to a package, let it cool and serve. Ask for Sunlite and take nothing else. It will surprise you and delight the children.

Mighty "Ben Hur" in Pictures

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in arrangement with A. L. Erlanger, Charles Dillingham and F. Ziegfeld, offers the world's mightiest attraction at the Park theatre, on Thursday, March 24, for one night only, in the celebrated picture version of "Ben Hur" to which all New York has crowded for many months and which equally delighted Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, St. Louis, Detroit, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, in as many record-breaking runs.

This wonderful picturization cost $4,000,000, three years' time, and the labors of 150,000 persons in Italy and California.

It culminated in the construction of the gigantic Circus Maximus and race-course of Antioch and in the filming thereon of the thrilling Chariot race. Instead of eight horses and the old-time mechanical illusion of the stage show, the new and greater "Ben Hur" shows twelve teams of four horses each racing the seven laps of a great arena with all the hairbreadth escapes and spills incident to the struggle.

Why doctors recommend
ALL-BRAN

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the intestines—at the same time it gently distends them, purifying, removing wastes and poisons. In a

No need to risk habit-forming drugs!

How different is ALL-BRAN from drugs and pills—whose dose must be constantly increased to remain effective! ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. tier P. T. A. Jamboree

The program at the Jamboree to be given under the auspices of the Whittier Parent Teacher's association, Saturday, March 19, at the Whittier school will consist of selections of the Viking's orchestra and a playlet "The Wood Box" by Jennie Wall Hanft, which was presented a short while ago in the high school auditorium by the Semper Paratus club.

The play centers around the attempts of a fond mother to curb the desire of a career by her daughter. The scenes are laid in the vicinity of Gull Lake. The cast includes:

Mr. Dancer—Henry Viken.
Mrs. Dancer—Sylvia Ericson.
Linnette—Lois Cook.
Dr. Langley—Wm. McClenahan.
Mrs. Parsons—Mildred Hagberg.
The Stranger—Joe Greener.

At the first local presentation of the play Mrs. Hanft was present and commented favorably on the performance. Mrs. Hanft is the daughter-in-law of Frank Hanft, Sr., who at one time was principal of the Brainerd high school.

The play is coached by the Misses Marion Linnemann and Margaret Armstrong under the supervision of Miss Elia Oerting of the high school faculty.

Miss Oerting by her organizing of the Semper Paratus club perhaps has done more than any one else for the development of amateur dramatic talent in high school circles and results are very evident in the acting of the play.

Between the first and second acts of the play Mrs. W. A. Erickson will give several readings.

Besides the main program of the evening there will be several smaller interesting attractions. Doors will be open at 7 o'clock and two performances will be given, one at 7:30 and the other at 8:30 o'clock to enable everyone to take in the entire festivities.

Proceeds from the entertainment will go towards swelling the treasury of the Whittier Parent Teacher's association.

Children Cry for Jell, Jell, Jell

Light, easily digested dainties of real food value are what the children should have. Fruit flavored gelatin desserts are highly recommended for them by specialists. Local grocers now handle the latest improved prepared gelatin, called Sun-Lite. It comes in 5 pure fruit flavors—orange, lemon, cherry, raspberry, strawberry—and mint. Simply add a pint of boiling water to a package, let it cool and serve. Ask for Sun-Lite and take nothing else. It will surprise you and delight the children.

Mighty "Ben Hur" in Pictures
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in arrangement with A. L. Erlanger, Charles Dillingham and F. Ziegfeld, offers the world's mightiest attraction at the Park theatre, on Thursday, March 24, for one night only, in the celebrated picture version of "Ben Hur" to which all New York has crowded for many months and which equally delighted Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, St. Louis, Detroit, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, in as many record-breaking runs. This wonderful picturization cost $4,000,000, three years' time, and the labors of 150,000 persons in Italy and California.

It culminated in the construction of the gigantic Circus Maximus and race-course of Antioch and in the filming thereon of the thrilling Chariot race. Instead of eight horses and the old-time mechanical illusion of the stage show, the new and greater "Ben Hur" shows twelve teams of four horses each racing the seven laps of a great arena with all the hairbreadth escapes and spills incident to the struggle.

Constipation is the cause of much unhappiness and ill-health. It wrecks strength. It saps vitality. It sickens the mind and body! Yet, it can be relieved—yes, prevented! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring safe relief—prompt prevention!

Why doctors recommend
ALL-BRAN

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the intestines—at the same time it gently distends them, purifying, removing wastes and poisons. In a part-bran product the quantity of bulk is usually too small to be effective. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN—because it is 100% bran.

No need to risk habit-forming drugs!

How different is ALL-BRAN from drugs and pills—whose dose must be constantly increased to remain effective! ALL-BRAN is delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Let it soak a few moments to bring out its full crisp flavor. Mix it with other cereals. In soups. Try the recipes on every package.

Don't risk part-bran substitutes. Insist on genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, cafeterias. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

TEN PRINCIPLES OF LIVING

"FINANCIAL Independence: How to Win It", and published by D. Appleton & Co. as reviewed in the Minnesota Federation News, gives ten principles or rules which, applied to one's daily life, will make a financial success. Some of them, says the Federation News, do not concern the very young; most of them, however, cannot be inculcated too soon.

"Read these principles. Take them into your own life; for you cannot teach thrift successfully to your children unless you are able to practice it yourself. Children are very quick to detect insincerity.

"Have these principles constantly in mind while training your children. Here they are:

"1. Decide to become independent. Set a goal of achievement.

"2. Think straight and plan.

"3. Master the art of saving.

"4. Master the art of spending.

"5. Guard against waste.

"6. Cultivate the habit of industry.

"7. Go into debt wisely.

"8. Establish a connection with a good bank.

"9. Use saved capital for profit.

"10. Conserve your capital."

OPTIMISTIC CATALOGS

THIS is a great day for catalogs. We view the seed catalog with visions of huge tomatoes, succulent peas, long legged radishes, big headed cabbages, lettuce growing as luxuriantly as a flapper's head of hair. We are impelled to dig through the basement and assemble the equipment and artillery for an assault upon the innocent, unsuspecting earth outside.

Another catalog is just full of sporting goods, back lash reels, fishing rods, tents, outdoor equipment of all kinds, guns, rifles, etc., and the fever starts urging one to be ready when the fish and game seasons open.

Other literature reveals new cars, new stream line bodies. And the lady of the house gets catalogs on new spring wear. And so on ad infinitum.

What is the remedy? Brainerd merchants must use their newspapers to combat the insidious lure of the catalogs. Catalogs of all kinds flood into Brainerd and almost jam the postal machinery of the local federal building.

If Brainerd is a good town to shoot catalogs to, it must have trade possibilities. If trade possibilities can be seen by the catalog men, then the local merchant must prepare to retain the field and the best way to do it is by newspaper advertising.

CRIME COMMISSION WORK

IN line with the Crime Commission's recommendations for relief from any crime wave and offering suggestions to improve court procedure, detection of criminals, etc., the Brainerd Dispatch has a suggestion to make and that is:

Has any one thought of having a school for constables and policemen and other peace officers?

Take New York or Chicago. No policeman can "make" the force until he has successfully passed an examination at the school. He learns first of all what evidence means, what evidence is important in an arrest, how an arrest is to be made, what constitutes false arrest, etc. He is taught what the various kinds of crime are, how to distinguish various degrees, etc. Coupled with training in this legal end of distinguishing crime he is taught all the practical things required of a policeman.

Whereas the state tax commission sends out a representative to instruct assessors in old and new laws, we find nothing of the kind for the instruction of policemen, constables and other peace officers.

SUMMARY OF OLD WORLD CONDITIONS

THE Staples World gives a summary of old world politics and conditions that is illuminating and comprehensive.

"The Russian bear's reply to the growl of the British lion has been hailed as a temporary postponement of a rough and tumble free for all. Back of it, however, are unmistakable evidences of bitter hatred of British among the people of Russia, a hatred that may break through all restraint at any time, particularly if Great Britain should attempt intervention in China.

"In spite of the League of Nations and Locarno, the whole European situation seems to be about the same as it was in the spring of 1924. Everybody has a chip on their shoulders and they all want America's money for more armament."

CLUB VOTE ON STATE BIRD

VARIOUS women's clubs of Minn-heads, expressing a preference on state bird, have favored the red-headed woodpecker, meadow-lark, robin, goldfinch, wren, brown thrush, rosebreasted grosbeak, bluejay, quail.

What is your choice?

OF Mons Mahlum, who is equally at home in the Rotary clubs of Brainerd and St. Cloud, the St. Cloud Daily Times says: "Mons Mahlum, of Brainerd, who attends nearly every meeting of the St. Cloud club reported that he had been appointed a committee of one to see that every member of the Brainerd club came to St. Cloud. 'And, added Mr. Mahlum, 'if they are not sick in bed I promise you a hundred per cent attendance from Brainerd'."

THE Walker Legion dog derby is reported to have been a "howling" success.

A TENNESSEE evangelist says there will be no taxes in heaven. We wonder, says the Milwaukee Journal, how Wisconsin folks will ever get used to the place.

ONE advantage of being a fireman is that one can park squarely in front of a water plug, says the Kalamazoo Gazette.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT REPEATS WARNINGS

The Minnesota Highway department repeated the warning issued yesterday against taking trips without definite knowledge of road conditions. Rain, snow and warm weather have played havoc with the unpaved highways, and while the weekly condition report issued today shows many good or fair stretches on the trunk roads, the department warns that poor and impassable stretches are scattered all over the state. The department also points out that the detailed report issued today is based upon reports made by the district maintenance superintendents yesterday, and that while maintenance forces are repairing impassable spots as rapidly as possible, other bad places may quickly develop. In most places reported poor.

The Minnesota Highway department repeated the warning issued yesterday against taking trips without definite knowledge of road conditions. Rain, snow and warm weather have played havoc with the unpaved highways, and while the weekly condition report issued today shows many good or fair stretches on the trunk roads, the department warns that poor and impassable stretches are scattered all over the state. The department also points out that the detailed report issued today is based upon reports made by the district maintenance superintendents yesterday, and that while maintenance forces are repairing impassable spots as rapidly as possible, other bad places may quickly develop. In most places reported poor.

HAHN DEFEATS WIDE, SWEDE CHAMPION

HAHN RAN AGAINST MAN, IN FAST TIME

THE AMERICAN MILLER FINISHED NEARLY DOZEN FEET AHEAD OF NORDIC TEACHER

WAS JUST ONE-FIFTH SECOND BEHIND WORLD RECORD FOR INDOOR MILE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, March 18.—(UP)—Edwin Wide, vaunted Swedish distance runner, ran against the hands of a clock in an attempt to set a new world record for the mile at Madison Square Garden last night, but Lloyd Hahn, Boston A. A., ran against a man. Hahn won.

The American miller finished nearly a dozen feet ahead of the Nordic school teacher and just 1-5 of a second behind the world record for the indoor mile—4 minutes 12 seconds, at held jointly by Paavo Nurmi and Joie Ray. Hahn's time was 4:12 1-5. Wide, who had set down in advance the speed he planned to make for each quarter mile, failed to stick to his schedule and discovered too late that Hahn was showing his heels too far ahead for a Swedish sprint to overtake him. Wide had planned to clip a second off the record but ended at least 2-5 of a second over it and 1 2-5 over his schedule.

Hahn might have broken the record had he put on more speed in the middle of the race, but he stuck to the rule of the track and figured the man he had to beat and not the time he had to do it in.

He stayed close behind the flashy Wide until two laps from the end. Then, with only 320 yards left, he cut loose and passed Wide like a sprinter. He kept up a terrific pace to the end and though Wide fought gamely to the end, he could not catch the flying American.

The flashy finish brought the crowd of 14,000 to its feet and wild cheers greeted the victor.

Four other milers were in the race. Willie Goodwin of the New York A. C., held the lead for the first few laps but he finished last. The others were Joe Siviak, Illinois A. C., who came in third; Jimmy Connolly, N. Y. A. C., fourth, and Gus Moore, St. Bonaventure's College, fifth.

Hahn left after the meet for Chicago, where he was scheduled to do a mile tonight in the American Institute of Banking track and field games.

George Leness, N. Y. A. C., national champion at 600 yards, won that event in 1:13. Frank McCloskey, Boston college, was a close second, Alan Helfrich, N. Y. A. C., third and Alva O. Martin, Chicago A. A., fourth.

Syracuse defeated Georgetown in a special one-mile relay—the third this year between the teams. Syracuse has won two.

Roy Dodge, Illinois A. C., won a special half-mile run in 1:59 1-5. Pincus Sober, Holy Name college, was second.

Harold Osborne, Illinois A. C., won the high jump at 6 feet 4 1-2 inches but failed to make a try at 6:6 1-2, which would have broken the world record.

Chester Bowman, Newark A. C., took the 40-yard dash in 9 1-4 4-5 with Loren Murchison, Illinois A. C., second and Francis Hussey, Boston college, third. Bowman took the 50-yard dash with Hussey second and Bob McAllister, K. of C., third. The time was 6 1-2 2-5. McAllister took the 60-yard dash with Bowman second and Hussey third in 6 2-5.

Emerson Norton, Illinois A. C., won the pole vault at 12 feet 6 inches with Fred Weisner, Georgetown, second and Roy Slagle, U. of P., third.

FLYING ACES TO PLAY PINE RIVER

The Flying Aces, Brainerd independent champion, left this evening for Pine River to meet that aggregation in a return match. Men making the trip included the two Heikensens, Whitlock, Gabiou, Laitala, Joe Fitzharris and Laurie Swanson. The Flying Queens will meet the Pine River girls team in the preliminary match.

SAYS NO TRAIN WAS EVER HELD UP AT ALTON, AUGUST, 1923

Alton, Ill., March 18.—(UP)—If a Chicago and Alton train was held up here in August, 1923, it was perhaps the stealthiest crime on record because no one ever found it out.

Barney Fahrig, a policeman here for 26 years, told the United Press today there never was such a robbery.

"Nothing to it," he said of the "confession" made by Fred Buhl of Brooklyn police that he robbed the train and hid $100,000 loot at Bismarck, N. D.

SHADE SHOT HARD LEFTS AND RIGHTS, PUMMELING HERMAN EVERY ROUND

HERMAN IN DISTRESS IN 2ND ROUND, IN NEXT 4 GOT SEVERE BEATING

By CLARK B. KELSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, March 18.—(UP)—The attempt of Dave Shade, California middleweight, to ascend to the championship was one step farther along today following his knockout of Tillie "Kid" Herman last night.

Shade proved without doubt that he had overcome the effects of pneumonia which forced him out of fighting for more than a year.

Starting in the first round with his cat-like tactics of weaving back and forth, shooting hard lefts and rights, Shade pummeled Herman through every round. Herman was in distress in the second round and in the next four rounds Herman took one of the worst beatings of his life.

When the seventh round was called Herman failed to respond and Shade was awarded the fight on a technical knockout.

The Shade fight last night almost establishes the good looking Californian as the next opponent of Mickey Walker, the middleweight champion. Promoter Jim Mullen announced he would sign Shade for a fight with Walker and the former welterweight champion had signified his willingness to meet Shade.

In the semi-windup, "Spug" Meyers of Pocatello, Idaho, easily bested Billy White of New York in 10 rounds. This fight practically assured Meyers of a championship fight although Mullen is not certain what class.

Meyers is able to fight in either the lightweight or junior welterweight ranks. Mullen is considering bringing either Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight, or Sammy Mandell, lightweight, here for a championship bout with Meyers.

SEEK CHANGES IN GAME, FISH LAWS

St. Paul, March 18.—(UP)—Important changes in the game and fish laws were asked today in the closing hours of a two day convention of the Minnesota division of the Izaak Walton league.

One faction of the league proposed discontinuance of the one buck law and substituting in its place a law which would permit the killing of either buck, doe or fawn on alternate years. Proponents claimed the present law fosters violation because of the difficulty of distinguishing between sexes of deer in the forests.

Abolishment of fishing in winter with spears or nets was also proposed by the delegates.

ASCENSIONS AND QUEENS BATTLE WILL BE CLOSE

2 TEAMS AT EQUAL STRENGTH: WILL LINE UP SATURDAY EVENING

GIRLS' BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE SETTLED AT HIGH SCHOOL GYM

An even break is predicted in the strength of the two teams when the Minneapolis Ascension Girls line up against the Flying Queens, Brainerd, on Saturday night at the high school auditorium to settle the girls basketball championship of the northwest.

The following letter was received from the manager of the Ascensions: "Understand you have the fastest girls' team in your section of the state. We have been hearing a lot about your girls in an indirect way. This party, who saw the Flying Queens play against the Menasha high school girls last month, remarked that you have the fastest forward he ever saw play in a girls' game. Also learn that you will have an all-star aggregation, so we are preparing for a strenuous battle Saturday night."

Beggs and Turner will hold down the forward positions for the Queens with Iva Trask at the pivot position. Gladys Reuter, Smith and Nolan will line up on the guard positions, while the reserve squad consists of Fogelstrom, Alzant, Storm and Hollingsworth.

Tonight the Flying Queens journey to Pine River where they will meet the Panthers on the high school floor.

Preliminary Game
In the preliminary game, which starts at 7:30 o'clock, the Night Hawks will take on the Flying Aces, city champions, and attempt to wrest this title from the confident red and white boys.

The Night Hawks are an all star combination, comprising members of the high school first team, with the exception of Koop. The line-up will start with Fitzharris and Koop as forwards, Cal Orth in the center position, and Lowe and DeRoche holding the guard positions.

It will be remembered that these same two teams met three weeks ago in a mighty fierce battle, ending with a score of 21-20 in favor of the Flying Aces. So the Night Hawks are out to even up that defeat, and will fight relentlessly until the final whistle.

Matinee Ladies

BY William B. Courtney

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"MATINEE LADIES," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. picture production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, college student, gets work as a dancing partner for rich women in a New Jersey roadhouse. At the Inn he meets the prettiest, sweetest girl he has ever laid eyes on—Sally, the cigarette girl. Reciprocating his interest, she warns him against the mysterious and beautiful Mrs. Hammond, habitue of the Inn, who finds her "thrill" in "hunting" Bob for her loveliest apartment. Bob, taking Sally home, finds Mrs. Smith hostile; and learns he has a rival.

Bob Ward, shunting from his mind with the elasticity of youth the recollections of Mrs. Smith's grins, attended his night lectures, boned until midnight over his engineering tomes, and reflected over the events of what had been the most wonderful day in his whole life.

But, somehow, try though he would to deride and banish it, the ravishing face of Mrs. Hammond hovered omnipresently through his mind.

Freddy and Arch dropped into Bob's room for a while around midnight; and together the three of them wrestled with some classroom problems.

Something had communicated itself from Bob Ward's manner to these two puff-brights this afternoon—something earnest and fine, that inspired them in an intangible way quite beyond their infantile comprehension.

They were all very happy tonight; and after closing their books, lapsed into a serious discussion of their future. All of a sudden, it seemed as though the boys realized,

"And yet, whatever be life's fortune, Though memory fail and friends be few, We'll love thee still, our Alma Mater."

The last echoes died away in the hallways. Doors closed gently here and there. Arch and Freddy, who had started their song in defiance, were vaguely and strangely moved by the realization that it had grown beautifully out of its original intention. Subdued, they patted each other's backs and parted—each to his tiny room.

Bob, meanwhile, sat back with closed eyes, and softly hummed the last four lines as his chums continued to sing:

"And yet, whatever be life's fortune, Though memory fail and friends be few, We'll love thee still, our Alma Mater."

Bob, meanwhile, sat back with closed eyes, and softly hummed the last four lines as his chums continued to sing:

"the only kind of a sixty-yard dash you may be making next autumn will be down the church aisle, to make a touchdown with a wedding ring!"

That brought Bob back to himself, also. He made a dive for his chums, so that they could wind the night up with one of their customary house-disturbing rumpuses—that usually ended only when Mrs. O'Sully, in her nightgown, and a deputation of indignant student boarders armed with baseball bats and murderous looks, appeared outside their door.

But tonight Arch and Freddy eluded him and fled in safety.

Bob, closing his door and happily relaxing in his battered armchair, clasped his hands behind his head and closed his eyes—to drowse for a moment, before turning in, over the deep-coursing significance of this most eventful day.

In the hallway on the floor below, where their rooms were located, Freddy and Arch had paused to send a serenade up the stairway well. Bob listened wistfully; it was the last verse of the touché college classic, "The Palisades":

"But college friendships all must sever,

And fade as does the dying day,

And closest kinship all be broken

As out in life we wend our way."

All through the house, doors were opening indignantly as the rich baritone of Arch, and the clear boyish tenor of Freddy, rose softly on the quiet midnight air. But somehow, tonight it was different; those who opened their doors to protest, found themselves suddenly thrilled by the earnest undecurrent of emotionalism in the boys' singing. Even Mrs. O'Sully, salting forth to quell the "disturbance," was vaguely touched, and kept in the shadows of the lowest hallway without uttering a sound. She just stood there and listened and wondered why she felt so; just as she did at those sad movies.

Bob, meanwhile, sat back with closed eyes, and softly hummed the last four lines as his chums continued to sing:

"And yet, whatever be life's fortune, Though memory fail and friends be few, We'll love thee still, our Alma Mater."

WEEPAH DOWN TO SERIOUS WORK DIGGING GOLD

MUCH OF FRENZIED ATMOSPHERE ABOUT SCENE OF STRIKE DISAPPEARS

AMATEUR SEEKERS, DISCOURAGED WITH HANDSHIPS, LEAVE FIELD

Tonopah, Nev., March 18.—(UP)—Weepah got down to the serious business of digging gold today.

Much of the frenzied atmosphere apparent about the scene of Nevada's latest gold strike, 37 miles from Tonopah, had disappeared. Amateur seekers after the yellow metal, discouraged by high prices, hard living conditions, and elusiveness of the golden nuggets, had all but left the field to the veterans who came to Weepah with all the experience and willpower that years spent in digging gold—both from the ground and from fellow humans' pockets—could give them.

Weepah now has a general merchandise store, where prices rival those charged in Goldfield years ago; a boarding house, where food is almost worth its weight in gold; a dance hall, which would make a good movie set for a wild western drama, and a gambling house, where the croupiers wear "jazz" bow neckties instead of the stocks of long ago.

In addition there are several traveling bar-keepers—they carry all their equipment with them in the back seats of automobiles—who will assuage the thirst of any claim holder who feels the need of refreshment. Drinking water costs almost as much as moonshine liquor although one enterprising vendor of both advertises "shot of corn one dollar—chaser free."

Although most of the incoming miners pass through Tonopah in automobiles, yet when Tonopah's lone train-a-day wheezes up the stiff grade to the station it drags three pullmans, with all berths filled, instead of the one it formerly used to pull along half empty.

One of the first dispassionate expert opinions on the Weepah strike was obtained by the United Press from Watson Balliet, internationally known geologist.

"Not enough time has elapsed nor has enough work been done for any engineer or geologist to make a very comprehensive statement," Balliet said, "but I will say that there are plenty of opportunities for pick and shovel workers and that some of them may find prospects that eventually will be mines."

"It is a mineralized region that has never been thoroughly prospected although some effort by migratory prospectors is in evidence here and there. Apparently they were looking for silver, not gold. Had there been a stream of water handy, no doubt much panning of gravel and mortared rock would have been done and some ledges now being brought to notice would have been found productive long ago."

"I like the looks of the hills and the region and of some of the specimens, but only a pick and shovel will tell what might be developed." The largest financial transaction in the field was completed last night; when a $10,000 down payment was made by Thomas Lynch, president of the Belcher Consolidated Mining Company, for four claims adjoining those staked out by Frank Horton, Jr., and Leonard Traynor, discoverers of the original strike.

Lynch agreed to pay $30,000 for the claims and said he would start mining activity on them at once.

How to Look and Feel Younger

Scientific Stimulation Will Banish That Tired, Nervous Appearance

Nothing detracts so much from the appearance of strength and success in a man as lack of plenty of firm, hard flesh on his bones. Thin, underweight men have no endurance, tire easily and have hard work to keep going—they are the ones who lose out in the race for success.

If you want the appearance and vitality of strong, successful, vigorous men, you should try a healthful and proven digestive stimulant. After the first few days you will note renewed energy, your food will taste better and you will experience an added snap and vigor. As you continue, you will find your weight increasing—in the place of worry lines and flabby muscles, there will be smooth, firm, solid flesh.

As you continue to get full nutriment out of your food as brought about by this scientific stimulant, the nerves become steadier and more controlled, the eyes brighter and there will be a determination and vigor in your actions that will surprise you as well as your friends. These facts may seem amazing to you, but results like these are happening every day to men all around you.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions. It is delightfully palatable and prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy. —Adv.

Matinee Ladies

"MATINEE LADIES," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. picture production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, college student, gets work as a dancing partner for rich women in a New Jersey roadhouse. At the Inn he meets the prettiest, sweetest girl he has ever laid eyes on—Sally, the cigarette girl. Reciprocating his interest, she warns him against the mysterious and beautiful Mrs. Hammond, habitué of the Inn, who finds her "thrill" in "hunting" Bob for her lovelorn apartment. Bob, taking Sally home, finds Mrs. Smith hostile, and learns he has a rival.

Bob Ward, shunting from his mind with the elasticity of youth the recollections of Mrs. Smith's grumblings, attended his night lectures, boned until midnight over his engineering tomes, and reflected over the events of what had been the most wonderful day in his whole life.

But, somehow, try though he would to deride and banish it, the ravishing face of Mrs. Hammond noted omnipresently through his mind.

Freddy and Arch dropped into Bob's room for a while around midnight; and together the three of them wrestled with some classroom problems.

Something had communicated itself from Bob Ward's manner to these two puff-heads this afternoon—something earnest and fine, that inspired them in an intangible way quite beyond their infantile comprehension.

They were all very happy to-night; and after closing their books, lapsed into a serious discussion of their future. All of a sudden, it seemed as though the boys realized,

"And yet, whatever be life's fortune, Though memory fail and friends be few, We'll love thee still, our Alma Mater."

Our dear old N. Y. U."

The last echoes died away in the hallways. Doors closed gently here and there. Arch and Freddy, who had started their song in defiance, were vaguely and strangely moved by the realization that it had grown beautifully out of its original intention. Subdued, they padded each other's backs and parted—each to his tiny room.

In his poor and meagre little room on the socially despised top, or attic floor, Bob Ward brushed a suspicious moisture from his eyes. Never before had the words of the college classic stirred him so; never before had their underlying meaning occurred to him. Many an idle hour, in the parrot lack of understanding of their youth, Bob and his chums and friends had sung those words. Many a fall day, resting in the clubhouse between halves, he had heard the undergraduate body in the stands of Ohio Field outside, or in the more spacious banks of the great Yankee Stadium on the occasion of important games, swell into the moving words, with heads uncovered.

Now, for the first time, they really reached his inner consciousness, his heart, with their true signals—the carefree tops of youth to be dropped, the mantle of manhood to be assumed, and the present to fade into happy memory.

Bob sighed, then stood up and threw off his clothes. Stripped, he spent ten minutes in the rapid setting-up exercises which kept his fine body and muscles supple.

Over and over he told himself, as he snuggled down into even the grateful comfort of Mrs. O'Sully's worst bed, that this had been a day of days. He philosophized, as youth will, on the vast changes brought within the space of dawn to dark. An adventure, a job, undreamt of when he had arisen that morning, had been his by early afternoon; and a princess, more beautiful and sweet than his wildest dreams had ever pictured, had suddenly filled his life.

Once or twice he thought casually about Mrs. Hammond, but dismissed her indifferently each time from his mind, which was taken up solely and enthusiastically with the precious vision of a Dresden doll, with combed-honey hair and lustrous eyes. Thinking of little Sally Smith, and that there could only be good in a world that was trod by such as her, he fell asleep without a care.

His young head would not have settled so pleasantly to dreams could he have but glimpsed the immediate future; the cataclysmic changes in store for him, the swift and tragic shift of fate, the melodrama behind the next turn of the wheel. If he could have known what Mrs. Hammond was planning even at that very moment!

Freddy and Arch rose to go; Freddy, with a redeeming gesture which showed that not all of his animal spirit was dead, knocking the ashes out of his pipe into Bob's best hat.

Ordinarily, Bob would have punished this act by cramming the ashes down Freddy's throat, or at least his back; but tonight, Bob just mechanically overturned the hat and shook the ashes upon the floor, the while he remarked wistfully:

"But it will seem sort of funny next autumn not to be in there when the referee's whistle blows! Not to know ever again the fun and excitement of running down the field after the kick-off!"

"Say," said Arch, following the example of Freddy and coming back to his normal light-hearted and light-headed self with a chuckle, Burchette has filed in this Court his petition stating, among other things, that he is a son of the above named decedent, that said decedent died intestate, a resident of the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, left property in the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, and was a citizen of the United States; and praying that administration of her estate be granted to said Leonard P. Burchette.

Therefore, You are hereby cited to be and appear before said Court on the 4th day of April, 1937, at ten o'clock A. M., in the Court House in the City of Brainerd, in said County and State, and show cause, if any you have, why said petition should not be granted.

stead of the one it formerly used to pull along half empty.

One of the first dispassionate expert opinions on the Weepah strike was obtained by the United Press from Watson Balliet, internationally known geologist.

"Not enough time has elapsed nor has enough work been done for any engineer or geologist to make a very comprehensive statement," Balliet said, "but I will say that there are plenty of opportunities for pick and shovel workers and that some of them may find prospects that eventually will be mines."

"It is a mineralized region that has never been thoroughly prospected although some effort by migratory prospectors is in evidence here and there. Apparently they were looking for silver, not gold. Had there been a stream of water handy, no doubt much panning of gravel and mortared rock would have been done and some ledges now being brought to notice would have been found productive long ago."

"I like the looks of the hills and the region and of some of the specimens, but only a pick and shovel will tell what might be developed." The largest financial transaction in the field was completed last night when a $10,000 down payment was made by Thomas Lynch, president of the Belcher Consolidated Mining Company, for four claims adjoining those staked out by Frank Horton, Jr., and Leonard Traynor, discoverers of the original strike.

Lynch agreed to pay $30,000 for the claims and said he would start mining activity on them at once.

How to Look and Feel Younger

Scientific Stimulation Will Banish That Tired, Nervous Appearance

Nothing detracts so much from the appearance of strength and success in a man as lack of plenty of firm, hard flesh on his bones. Thin, underweight men have no endurance, tire easily and have hard work to keep going—they are the ones who lose out in the race for success.

If you want the appearance and vitality of strong, successful, vigorous men, you should try a healthful and proven digestive stimulant. After the first few days you will note renewed energy, your food will taste better and you will experience an added snap and vigor. As you continue, you will find your weight increasing—in the place of worry lines and flabby muscles, there will be smooth, firm, solid flesh.

As you continue to get full nutriment out of your food as brought about by this scientific stimulant, the nerves become steadier and more controlled, the eyes brighter and there will be a determination and vigor in your actions that will surprise you as well as your friends. These facts may seem amazing to you, but results like these are happening every day to men all around you.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions. It is delightfully palatable and prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy. —Adv.
